

The Rebel Wheel

Steeped in dark cinematic sound-scapes and complex, turn-on-a-dime arrangements, The Rebel Wheel features a frenetic mix of angular rock aggression, jazz phrasing, complex harmonies and unpredictable odd-meter vamps. Originally formed in 1991 as a fusion-based midi ensemble, the floating lineup has gradually solidified to the current four piece featuring guitars, keyboards, drums and bass, and the music has focused more on a modern, genre-blending punk-jazz and progressive rock approach.

Based in Ottawa, Ontario, The Rebel Wheel consists of leader David Campbell on guitars, vocals and keyboards: Alex Wickham on drums, vocals and keyboards and Andrew Burns on bass, vocals and keyboards.

While The Rebel Wheel has experimented with more modern electronic elements and loops, their core sound is based on the dynamic interaction of real players and real instruments. At times large and dissonant, at other times lyrical and direct, The Rebel Wheel features strong playing, unique arrangements, unexpected sonics and a self-contained compositional symmetry.

The band has eight CDs available for sale. The CDs “We Are in the Time of Evil Clocks” and Diagramma were released by Atlanta Georgia’s 10T Records. Since the release of their fourth album, “Whore’s Breakfast” the band has been with Germany’s Rostfrei Records. Their current release “Bag Of Snakes” and is currently garnering rave reviews from around the globe.
